Dear Registered Nurses,

My name is Eva Mendez. I am the Senior Consultant for Health Match B.C. Health Match B.C. is a free health professional recruitment service funded by the government of British Columbia. My work is to assist the province's six health authorities to recruit qualified nurses with advance certification in the following specialty nursing practices: Emergency Nursing, Perioperative Nursing, Critical Care Nursing, and Neonatal Critical Care Nursing.

In preparing for B.C.'s greater needs for nurses with the above advance practice certification for positions all over B.C., I am writing to invite all RN students enrolled in or about to complete your specialty certification to create an account with Health Match B.C. by registering and uploading your CV/resume onto our database at www.healthmatchbc.org. The government of B.C. has prioritized hiring RNs who graduated, registered, and living in B.C. as our priority cohort for hire.

Once you are registered with Health Match B.C., we will be in regular communication. I will ask you to share which geographical regions you would be interested in relocating to. Once your preferences have been identified, I will be forwarding all your information to the hiring team and support you through the seamless transition to your new community.

I look forward to working with you.

Regards,

Eva Mendez
